

Invitation for Publishing your Scientific Work

Within the cultural & educational activity of Center of Planning & Architectural Studies (CPAS) & its support to the Arab library which lacks the availability of Arabic books & scientific references, the Center has collected & organized a digital library which includes a collection of Books, Theses (Ph.D – MA) & scientific researches of a distinguished group of Egyptian & Arab architects and urban planners who gladly agreed to publish their scientific work on our website www.cpas-egypt.com, free of charge & keep their intellectual copyright to be available to everyone. The aim is to facilitate for the architects & urban planners & students the access to the Arabic Books, Theses & Researches.

Accordingly, the Center has the pleasure to invite you to join the above mentioned selective group and to contribute with your scientific work to be published on our website to share in awakening the awareness of architectural culture. The Center will bear all the costs and burden of converting your scientific work into digital PDF with indexes and publishing on its website.

In case of your acceptance, kindly send all your scientific work, your C.V. and a photo in addition to your written approval of publishing them on our website. It is preferable to send your work in digital form or in a clear hard copy.

Thank you for your contribution in supporting science & culture.
